

Campus Connection

February 2019 Edition

Reading Week

Reading Week is February 18 - 22, and an opportunity for students to get caught up, take a break with friends or family and participate in extracurricular activities. The campus is open during the week, however there will be changes to residence services, including dining hall hours. We'll also be reminding students who are leaving for the week to remember their keys, and to throw out garbage and clean out their fridge before they go.

Housing

Is your student looking for off-campus housing for next year?

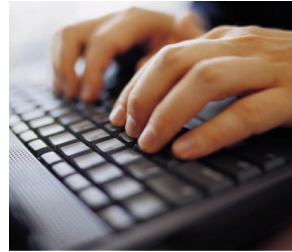

Queen's Community Housing manages university-owned off-campus student rentals, as well as an Accommodation Listing Service with available student rental units offered by landlords. Our Student Community Relations office provides advice and guidance for choosing accommodations, living with housemates and understanding tenant rights and responsibilities.

Summer Jobs

There are a number of positions available for students who are looking for a summer job on campus, including in Residences and Enrichment Studies. Career Services also has postings for summer positions, as well as internships and work-study programs.

Doing Taxes?

Please note that Residence fees (except for $25, no receipt required), cannot be claimed on income tax returns. Visit the Registrar's office for more information about T2202A Income Tax Certificates.

Study Abroad Opportunities

The Bader International Study Centre \(BISC\), the UK campus of Queen's University, offers study abroad opportunities in Summer, Winter and Fall. First Year students can apply for programs, including those running this Summer, right now! Visit their website to explore available programs or contact the BISC at: castle@queensu.ca or 613-533-6000 x75665 for more information.
