

Hosting Guests

Residence Life creates a community environment where our students can feel a sense of belonging, build resilience, and be academically successful. We encourage the personal development of our community members by holding individuals accountable for violations of the residence behavioural expectations.

The Residence Community Standards, as a part of the overall residence experience, are designed to:

- Create connection and belonging within a safe and respectful residence community.
- Challenge residents to think critically, accept responsibility for their actions, and learn and grow from their experiences.
- Emphasize the rights, responsibilities, dignity, and academic pursuits of all residents.

Educational sanctions are designed to provide residents who have been found responsible for a violation of the Residence Community Standards with the opportunity reflect on their behaviour and the consequences of their actions. Educational sanctions are not academic assignments.

Learning Outcomes

Residents who complete this sanction will:

- Review the Guest Policy and translate it into their own words.
- Understand the bystander effect and the barriers to active intervention.

Instructions

- 1) Review the residence Guest Policy on page 7 of the Residence Community Standards Handbook. If you were to communicate this to your guest or share it with your friends, how would you rephrase it? What would it look like if you were sharing it over social media?
- 2) Guests who don't have a good sense of your residence community can sometimes make decisions completely different from our own. Intervening can be a big challenge. Reflect on the questions below.
 - a. What are some of the challenges we face when trying to address people whose behaviour we don't agree with?
 - b. How would you define assertiveness? How assertive do you feel you are?
 - c. What can you do in the future to intervene if a situation like this comes up again?

Queen's has also developed a Sexual Violence Bystander Intervention Training program. If you are interested in learning more – check out: <http://queensu.ca/studentaffairs/student-safety/personal-safety/sexual-violence-assault-abuse-and-harassment/sexual-violence>
